-The way to avoid being bothered by mosquitoes is to eat a large dish of cucumbers before retiring at night, and you will not mind them at all.

-How about those Saturday afternoon open-air concerts which were to delight the lovers of music at our big dry goods house? Trot 'em out.

-It is said that a base ball "muffer" can easily learn how to catch "flies" by thrusting his feet outside the bedclothes about five o'clock in the morning. -The "good looking" junior clerk of our prominent hotel, has returned from his rusticating trip through Franklin looking as pretty as ever. We chronicle his return for the information of the ladies.

-Mr. R. T. Loder, the "young men's tailor," and whose patrons are said to be the leaders of fashion in the city, will open in a day or two his establishment for carrying on the business of tailoring We commend him to the patronage of the public.

___ A little "unpleasantness" occurred between two parties yesterday, well known among the imbibers of the juice, but nothing of a serious nature occurred, and they were allowed to go in peace by compliance with a request of the Mayor to contribute a small amount to the city treasury.

Personal.

The family of Col. T. C. Fuller, Capt. A. B. Andrews and Mr. W. H. Hicks are summering at Beaufort. Messrs A. H. Winston and Charles Hay are quite sick at Mrs. Evans.

Colored Democratic Club.

For the information of Ike Young's sable friends, we take pleasure in stating that we learn from our exchanges that a colored Tilden and Hendricks Club has been formed in Richmond, and is said to be composed of some of the most respectable colored men in that city. It certainly should not be surprising to Ike and the Brogden ring were a movement of that kind to spring up in our midst, and especially in the eastern districts of the State.

Died. Mr. J. C. Gulley, formerly of this county, but who, for six months or more, had been living in Durham, died Monday at his home in the latter place of typhoid-pneumonia. Mr. Gulley was a well-to-do farmer when he resided in this county, and well-known among the merchants of this city, who will sympathize with his bereaved family in their deep affliction.

Injustice.

One of our temperance journals said whiskey threw Junius Mullen, one of our most efficient policeman, into the river at Milburnie. There is no evidence that Mr. Mullen was thrown into or was in the river at all Mr. M. has been done a great injustice by the statement. And futhermore, it was beer that flowed so freely, and not whiskey, as was intimated by the aforesaid paper.

The Supreme Court Vacancy.

It is rumored that the uncertainty of Settle's election is considered so great by his friends that Governor Brogden will keep his seat on the Supreme Court open for him till after the election. If so there will be no Supreme Court Judge appointed till after Settle's defeat when he will be liberally "his own successor" as Judge.

Many friends of the bride assembled at the residence of her father last evening to witness the nuptials of Mr. W. H. Sutton, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Amanda Weathers, daughter of Mr. K. R. Weathers, reaiding on West Hargett Street May they live long, prosper, and be happy.

Green Apples and Ice Water.

About five o'clock yesterday afternoon a colored man named Nelson Harvey, living in the eastern section of the city, was taken suddenly ill with cramps in the stomach, caused from eating green apples and drinkingice-water. A physician was called in and the patient soon recovered.

Sunday School at the Penitentiary-A Liberal Donation.

We are glad to learn that the interest and sympathies of our people are becoming more and more enlisted in this school. We learn among other things as to its progress and the interest taken in it, that our venerable and worthy townsman, Hon. B. F. Moore, has made a present of a $235 organ (an excellent intrument) to R. W. Best, for the use of the school. This organ is of the manufacture of Messrs. J. Es y & Co., of Brattleboro, Vermont, who deserve the thanks of the school for the prompt and liberal manner in which they responded to the wants of the school. But the organ is the gift of Mr. Moore, as above stated, for which superintendents, teachers and scholars, are all deeply grateful. We have mentioned this without Mr. Moore's knowledge, and at the risk of being chided by him for it, for truly it may be said of him when he performs a good work-and performs many-"his left hand knoweth not what his right hand doeth.' The following is Mr. Moore's letter to Mr. Best: R. W. Best, Esq. : My DEAR SIR- You are at liberty to buy the organ for me for the purpose indicated by you, and I present it as a gift for that purpose. Take charge of it and see that it is appropriated. Truly yours,

B. F. Moore. P. S. We learn that another gentleman has given Mr. Best $10 for the purchase of song books. Who will be the next?

The Graded School.

This institution of learning, which promises to become so popular among those who appreciate the advantages of education, opened yesterday under the most favorable ausrices. Although the weather was somewhat threatening, yet the attendance far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of our people. One hundred and seventy-two pupils put in their appearance, and it is thought that before the expiration of this week the number will reach two hundred and

We learn that among those present yesterday were the children of some he most prominent of our citizens Some time will doubtless elapse before the prejudices of our people against any system of free schools can be erased; but after it sha'l have demonstrated the ad antages it offers it is believed that it will become one of the most popular schoo's in our midst, and that the attendance will ere long be as great as the faciliities of the building will allow. Success to it.

Ike Young to be "Frazzled."

We understand that Ike Young, the radical candidate for Congress will speak at several points in this and the adjoining counties. and that our young friend, Graham Haywood, of the Young Men's Tilden and Vance Club will reply to him, (and will no doubt "wear him out to a frazzle.") We are also informed that Mr. A. M. McPheeters will attend the meetings and ventillate Ike in Mr. "Mack's" own inimitable style.

Mahone's Old Brigade. The second annual reunion of Mahone's Old Brigade took place in Norfolk (Va.) on Monday. Four hundred of the battle-scarred heroes were in line. There was a grand parade and collation. The speech of welcome was delivered by Mayor Tucker. Gen. Mahone made an eloquent reply. The annual poem was delivered by Captain James Baron Hope, and the annual address by Col. William E. Cameron.

A Trophy of Hatteras.

Charles Wallace, of New York, writes to Col. Cameron, formerly editor of the NEWS, that he has in his possession a Confederate flag presented by the ladies to the Hamilton Guards. It was captured at Hatteras. and as Mr. Wallace is in need of funds, he says the ladies or the Guards can have the flag by paying North Carolina's Centennial Banner. In our issue of the 27th ult. we stated that the North Carolina Banner had the place of honor in the Main Building at the Centennial. We have just received a letter from a friend of the NEWS, who informs us that we are mistaken; it is in the Women's Pavilion, hanging very proudly and grand, near the center, over the western main aisle.

Court met yesterday at 9 o'clock, all the Justices present, except Settle resigned. The following cases was argued.

NEWS FROM GOV. VANCE.

2.000 Turn Out at Hendersonville Hear Him-He makes Judge Settle Take Water-Judge Settle still Sticks to the Garbled Letters and Bloody Shirt.

[Special Correspondence of the News.] HENDERSONVILLE, N. C., July 27, 1876.

Both of the gubernatorial candidates to-day were very hoars, and pretty well worn out, but Governor Vance, notwithstanding his hoarsenees, was equal to the occasion, and carried off new honors. The Governor opened by thanking the people for the favors they had conferred on him in the past, and like Xepophon and his Greek soldiers, who, when they neared their home, shouted "the Bes, the Sea;" like them, I feel as if I was in my native home in this mountain country. The Govornor told the people he had no hesitation in saying to them he was the white man's candidate for Governor, and although he had no ill will or enmity against the negro, and would not take any of their righ s from them, still, he was not in favor of debasing the Saxon blood by pushing forward the African blood to rule over the Saxon, The Governor said he was a Union man until North Carolina passed the ordinance of secession, and then he went into the war, not for fun, but in earnest. My competitor, said he, has charged me with being elected Governor as a Union man and then turning to be a rebel. I say this is not so; I made no platform; I said not a word; you took me without a pledge; without a promise; I was in the army fighting, and you called me home from the ranks as your Goverpor, and this is all that is brought against me, that I was a war man. My competitor does not point to a single thing I did, nor a single action of mine, but preaches you a sermon on Dr. Pritchard, and Dr. Curry, and sings a hallelujah on the Centennial year, and thanks God we have got the best and freest Government on earth; and then he says I was a war man, and garbles letters, and portions of my letters, from my letter book at Washington, and appeals to your prejudices and your love of country, and only cries, what a rebel Vance My competitor is like some young ladies, that play the piano-they play one tune with one hand, and another tune with the other hand. He will preach to you "good will, peace, brotherly love and this great centennial year," and then bring up with all his might and power all the bitter feelings of the war.

Judge Settle has had so much to say about deserters that Governor Vance to-day made a desperate effort to get him to say whether desertion was right. The Governor appealed to him; then he begged him; he entreated him, and finally told him he would not, and dare not tell whether desertion was right.

I will say here, Judge Settle the artful dodger he is, did not refer to the appeal Governor Vance had made to him in any way-of course not. If he says desertion was wrong, all his war arguments fall flat, and if he says desertion was right, then he admits he was all wrong himself, and consequently he is bound to keep silent.

Governor Vance again called upon him to know if he was in favor of the Civil Rights bill as it originally left the House and went to the Senate, with the school clause and burying-yard clause in it; but Judge Set tle was as silent as the tomb. "Hark, from the tomb, ye doleful sound mine ears attend the ery." The Governor again appealed to him to show where this great difference was in the expenditure of so much money; that it had cost more to run the Government eleven years since the war than seventy two years before the war; but Judge Settlemen eller sllent, silent. What a most Van mas! Major Rhett, of South Carolina asked Governor Vanca, dari g hi speech, if he could tell how me money the Revenue taken from poor farmers a little whisky from their twenty five or thirty bushels of corn. Gov ernor Vance replied that there were only two who knew, and they were the Almighty, who had nothing to do with the Radical party and the devil, who had so much interest in the Radical party that the would not Judge Settle took water day completely, and not only threw mud, and got mud and wallowed. Ye of his "sermon on the Ca good will and peace love, and Dr. Prite Curry" that he left opening remarks and bloody-shirt flag the There was nothing Judge's speech, and no made. His argument was a great rebel; th tion of it : that Govern responsible for North Carolina not being filled with Northern farmers. and for Northern capital not flowing into the coffers of North Carolina. In fact his whole argument was that Governor Vance was responsible for all the blood North Carolina lost in the war; he was responsible for all the Confederate money North Carolina issued. He was responsible for every ill that happened to North Carolina from the time the war broke out up till to-day. He even charged that the Democrats were responsible for the stealing that had been done in North Carolina. Then the Judge went back to his peace meetings, and told more about them, and how they had passed resolutions, &c., and had sent resolutions to Jeff Davis, and brought in Vance's garbled letters, with the great seal of the United States, and read from them, and commented, and re-hashed from Vance to war, and from war to Vance. One hour and fifteen minutes of his hour and a half was spent hurling opprobrium upon Governor Vance. He could find nothing too bitter to hurl with all his force and power upon the prejudices of the people, asking them to judge entirely from the one standpoint-that Vance was a rebel, while he (Settle) was the greatest Union saint North Carolina ever had. In Governor Vance's rejoinder he read a certain series of resolutions that Judge Settle introduced into the Legislature in 1854 in regard to the Fugitive Slave Law, showing that the Judge was six years ahead of time in getting ready for secession, and in fact, inaugurated secession in 1854 by the introduction of those resolutions. The Governor then showed the effect of the peace meetings. It was to induce deserters to come home from the army and commit murder, and to plunder and destroy discipline, and create dissetisfaction. He had no quarrel with honest deserters, but with those who made war upon the people and State, and were a dread to their community. He then again appealed to the Judge to say if he sanctioned desertion, but he was silent. between Governor Vance and Judge Settle, it is evident that Judge Settle is very badly hacked, and Governor Vance has got him under. I do not believe that Judge Settle has made a single vote, or even given satisfaction to his Republican hearers. They say they are tired of this continued war and bloody-shirt cry; and a good many have come out openly for Governor Vance, and many more tell their friends they will not vote for Settle.

Judge Settle has met with but little applause in his speeches and with no enthusiasm on his arrival at the towns while Governor Vance's speeches have been cheered and applauded, and good feeling has been seen from the commencement to the close of every speech, and all along the road, and entrance, into towns it has been ovation after ovation, shout upon shout, and cheer upon cheer. Zebulon B. Vance is sure to be the next Gevernor of North Carolina.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Situation in Forsythe.

WINSTON, N. C., July 29, 1876. MR. EDITOR: The political outlook in this section is of the most encouraging nature, and the friends of "Reform" are determined to redeem our good old county at the ensuing election. Our tickets, both State and National, are very acceptable to our people, and will carry more than our usual party vote. Many white men, who hitherto have been voting the Republican ticket, have openly announced their intention to vote this year with the great party of "Reform and Reconciliation." They can countenance no longer a party so corrupt, and whose leaders have betrayed their trusts. It is confidently believed that we will increase our usual majority in this (the 7th) District more than one thousand votes. The nomination of our townsman, Dr. "Jeremiah" Wheeler, for State Tressurer, will add no strength whatever to their ticket, the assertion of Radical papers to the contrary notwithstanding. The citizens of this township, a few nights ago, organized a Tilden and Vance Club numbering nearly three hundred memters, with C. B. Watson, Esq., as president. Much enthusiasm was manifested and the best of feeling prevailed, and in response to loud calls, Mr. H. A. London, Jr., of Chatham county, addressed the club in a stirring speech of an hour's length, which was re-ceived with rounds of applause.— Other clubs will be formed in the county, and a thorough organization

Our candidate for Elector, Wm. B. Glenn, Esq., will commence his can-vass at Wilkesboro' next Thursday, and will prove more than a match for his opponent. We are anxious for Vance to visit this county at an early day, and will give him a grand reception. He will lose no votes here, but on the contrary he will gain many Republicans, whom he protected from illegal arrests during the war.

Our town is still rapidly growing, and is destined to become the emporium of Western Carolina. Many handsome private residences have recently been erected, and everything betokens a permanent and substantial growth. FORSYTHE. To have good health medicine is

What Can be Cured need not be endured, although what can't minst be. Among the bodily ills susceptible of complete removal by that benign tonic as delterative, Hostester's Stomach Bitters, are general debility, malarial fevers, constitution, dyspepsia, liver disorder, and nervousness. Its remedial capabilities are, however, by no means limited to these maladies. Its properties as a blood depurent render it extremely serviceable in expelling the acrid impurities which produce those painful disorders, rheumatism and gout, and its invigorating and mildly stimulating effect upon the kidneys and blader constitute it a useful medicine for impelling those organs to a complete performance of their functions when they are weak and inactive. In fact there is scarcely any disease of which weakness is an accompaniment, in which this admi able medicine cannot be used with advantage. with advantage.

THE GRADED SCHOOL.

Raleigh, at last, has a graded school. It opened yesterday. With an excellent superintendent, a good corps of teachers, a system of education nearly perfect of its kind, and any quantity of the raw material to work on, we see no reason why the institution should not be entirely successful, and become as permanent as the city itself.

If the hundreds of children who swarm over the city are not trained and taught, the fault will rest with their parents or guardians. For here education, free, is brought to their very doors.

Fathers and mothers who neglect to avail themselves of this opportunity for sending their children to school assume all that heavy responsibility which attaches to those who suffer their children to grow up in ignorance, when it was in their power to have them instructed and improved, and all their young ideas taught to shoot in the proper direc-

The graded school system has been tried in Charlotte, Greensboro, Newbern, Richmond and other cities. In every case it has proved to be a good thing, and the polation of Raleigh will no dout derive much benefit from our graded school. It is the duty of every cit zen to do his or her part in custaining it.

THE BAYONET IN THE SOUTH-ERN ELECTIONS.

North Carolina is included among those States which are to be carried by the bayonet in November.

The administration must be mad. The time has gone by when North Carolina Democrats can be frighteaed by the firsh of the bavonet.

Let Mr. Grant send on his troops. Such a despotic and dastardly attempt to rob us of our liberties would arouse a wave of indignation among the white people of this State as would swell our majority to thousands upon top of thousands, and sweep radicalism away forever.

The New York Sun contains the following upon the subject: "The Administration have given it out that they will not try to carry ary Southern States for Hayes with the bayonet except Louisiana, South Carolina, and North Carolina. Legslatures are to be chosen in those States, which will elect two Senators in Louisiana in the room of West, Republican, and Pinchback, Republican, who was not seated; and one in South Carolina in the place of Robertson, Republican, and one in North Carolina in the room of Ransom, Democrat. As four seats in the Senste are involved in these elections, they are of unusual importance, and it is therefore natural that the Republicans should not besitate about employing force to earry them.

But let the South not be deieded by the runior that the bayonet is not to be used elsewhere in the interest of Bayes. We confidently look to see it tried in Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Florida. Twenty-eight electoral votes, and two seats in the Senate are involved in the contest in these States, and the Republicans will not abandon them without a desperate struggle."

THE MONEY QUESTION.

We publish to-day the great speech of General Ewing upon the money question.

It presents the matter in a masterly way. Its publication in every paper in the State would be of service.

The question of the currency is bound to become the overshadowing issue in American politics, sooner or later.

Things cannot stand as they are. A change in the financial policy of the Government is imperatively demanded.

A NEW PAPER.-The Farmer's Journal has made its appearance. It is a handsome-looking paper. With Prof. Walters as Agricultural Editor, there will be no lack of good instruction, advice and suggestions upon topics connected with the farming interests of the State.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.

General Tom Ewing's Great Speech for the People's Party and Popular Money. (Wa hington Sunday Herald.)

The nominations made by the St. Louis Convention were ratified at Lancaster, Ohio, on the 15th of July. The event of the occasion was the masterly speech of General Tom Ewing, which we reprint entire from the Cincinnati Enquirer.

General Ewing's Speech.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: I come here this evening to join the Democracy of Fairfield in ratifying the nominations of Tilden and Hendricks, and especially to discuss the position and tendencies of the two great parties in the Presidential canvass on what I regard as the paramount question of the day-the currency question. CURRENCY REFORM.

I address myself especially to those Democrats and Republicans, who seek currency reform in the interest of the many, not the few; who wish the General Government to issue all the currency, whether paper or metallic; who are hostile to all schemes for increasing the burden of the debt, and who prefer to walk through the paths of presperity to resumption instead of being dragged through hell to reach It.

THE SUBSIDIZED PRESS.

The theorists and usurers who have managed the national finances since the war have bought nearly the whole press of both parties to crush out this popular currency reform, attacking it with an occasional argument drawn from the report of the British Bu'lion Committee and an incessant volley of misrepresentations, caricatures, and epithets, just as the Chinese attacked the British in the opium war with a few ancient cannon and a legion of hideous banners, masks, googs, and stink cans. But in spite of all the clamor and abuse with which they have been assailed these currency, reformers still live. Their faith has grown and spread by intelligent discussion, and they mean to maintain their ground against all opposition, come from what quarter it may.

THE DUTY OF THE CURRENCY RE-FORM PARTY. How can they best maintain it? Charly by combining to give a victory to whichever of the two great parties is most i kely to effect all or part of the reforms they seek. A third party would be but a disturbing element in the canvess, and its formation could not be justified unless both of the great parties were equally committed to the recent laws for the spoliation of the people, the repeal of which is the first step toquestion. As a sincere friend of such currency reform I declare my conviction that it can be best promoted in the approaching Presidential election by the triumph of the Democratic party, which is substantially committed against and for the overthrow of the Repub mean party which enseted and almest unanimously sustains them. What are these laws? Possing by, as a wrong accomplished and irreparable the law of 1869, which Mr. Sherman, so justly characterized before he prepared and passed it as an act of "repudiation and extortion," they are, first, the act of March 12, 1873, and subsequent provisions smuggled into the Revired Statutes, by which all debts over five dollars, payable in gold or silver, were MADE PAYABLE ONLY IN GOLD.

This act, like that of 1869, and like the resumption law, was passed by steatth. The people had no notice of it. There was no discussion in the press, on the stump, or in the halls of Congress, though it added hundreds of millions to the debt and put hundreds of millions into the pockets of the bone holders without equivalent. It was slipped through Congress by its ingenious manipulators without attracting the slightest public attention. From the administration of Washington till the passage of that law the American silver dollar had been a legal tender for all amounts and for all debts, public and private, United States bonds included. But the bendholders and their attorneys in Congress saw that for twenty years past the world's product of gold had been gradually diminishing and its product of silver rapidly increasng, and that the United States which prior to the war had produced no silver, or next to none, produced in 1871, 1872 and 1873 more than all the rest of the world combined. They knew that this enormous increase of silver, the limit of which in the next few years no man could conjecture, added to the contemplated demonetization of the silver by Germany, would great y cheapen that metal as compared with gold; hence the legislative swindle by which the people were deprived of the right to pay their public and private debts in the cheaper and cheapening metal. How much did that add to the burden of those debts? The old standard silver dollar, in which they are payable, is already worth twenty per cent. less than the standard gold dollar. This depreciation of silver is an advantage which the people have a right to en-joy, and of which it was mere rascalto deprive them. Considered with reference to public debts alone this legislation was of from four to five hundred million of dollars, without even a pretext of justice or policy to cloak the villainy. The bullionists talk of the greenback as a dishonored promise. It was pay-able in the standard silver dollar, and is now worth ten per cent. more than that dollar. This law, which prevented the redemption of the greenback in silver, is one of the hindrances to resumption which the Democratic platform arraigns the Republican party for enacting.

THE RESUMPTION LAW. Second, the specie resumption law. This act was not passed to keep the public faith. That faith was pledged to pay the greenback in the standard silver dollar, which being worth ten per cent. less than the greenback, no nolder would make the exchange.-The people, for whose use as money the legal tenders were issued, never asked their redemption. The resumption law was passed, and its enforcement insisted on, not by the people, but by large holders of money securities.

THE REAL INTENT OF THE RESUMP TION ACT.

The purpose was and is first to se-cure to this class through the national banks the control and regulation of the whole paper currency of the country; second, to obtain $400,000, 000 more of Government bonds; and and third, to confiscate the property of debtors and double the value of hoarded currency securities by sudden and enormous contraction. To attain these ends we are to be subjected to a reduction of the currency in the next three years from $750,000,000 to $200,000,000 or $300 000,000. Con-

OUR SMALL SUPPLY OF GOLD, which, under the recent legislation. is to be in effect the only legal tender, a supply constantly diminishing under the conditions of our foreign trade and indebt dness, which cannot be changed for years, the accumulation or retention of any large amount of gold in this country is impossible No intelligent man can believe that the banks can keep affoat a currency redeemable to gold much if any in excess of the great amount we ever had before the war, which was $215 000,000. If we call it $250,000,-000 we shall then have a contraction of the currency in three years of about sixty-six and two-thirds per

THE INEVITABLE RESULT OF THE PROPOSED CONTRACTION OF CUR-RENCY.

Such suddenness and enormous contract on involves inevitably a reduction of all values of land and of labor and its products to an average of less than half their former value. Consider carefully the tripple evil of this immense reduction of values. First. Our taxes are now about nineteen dollars per head for national, State, and municipal governments, which is more than the whole net increase of wealth in the United States, an evormous and unparalleled burden which was nearly insupportable even in a season of general prosperity. This contraction of the currency will at least double the tax burden by reducing one-half the value of labor and property, by means of which

Second. There are about $8 000,-000,000 of private debts, which will also be doubled by this vast reduction of the tion of the currency. The effect on debtors will be precisely the same as though the currency were let alone and all their debts doubled. It is a legislative confiscation of the property of delters to an amount four tim s greater than the sum of our national debt, and a legislative gift of the plunder to creditors.

Third. Daring the process of contraction, while money is rapidly rising in purchasing power, and white abor and its products are falling, all productive industries must perish under an abso ute law of political economy which forbids manufacturing on a falling market.

Under the triple curses of this law most of the business men of the country will be dragged from competence to poverty. Milions of artisans, mechanies, and day taborers will be cast out of employment for years, and bankrupicy, want, agony, and des-pair will file the land.

AN SXAMPLE.

That this is no extravagant picture is shown by the history of British resumption by forced contraction in 1819-1823. Great Britain was a cred-one-third the value of ours, and moreover stood at but from three to five per cent, below par in gold, yet the Peel resumption act of 1819, from which this Republican resumption law is copied, caused a contraction of over forty per cent. of the paper currency to reach and maintain recommends rency to reach and maintain resump-tion, blighted her industries, impov-erished debtors, starved and beggar-ed her workingmen, and doubled the wealth and power of her aristocracy. Let doubters read Alison's "Knights" and Doubteday's description of that saddest era in the modern history of England, and the speeches of Brougham, Baring, and Sir Robert Peel bimself, deploring the folly of that law. We need but look around us to POLICY. The aggregate of business failures in the past six months is shown by statistics to surpass those of any equal period in our history; that a manufactuing industry in the United States was never so prostrate as now.

Probably a million of workingmen are idle and many more millions of dependent women and children are drifting to a winter of starvation or of beggary. The threat of early re-sumption, for which neither the Government, the banks, nor the people are prepared, has in fact thrown the country into a chronic panic, which itself increases the apprehension on which it seeds, and which, before the day fixed for resumption, will cause the death of industries, the subversion of order and property and a sion of order and property, and a more cruel and general wee than our terrible war itself inflicted.

FIRST PRUITS OF THIS MONSTROUS

THE FINAL RESULT WILL BE vast addition to our bonded debt, the complete control of the currency and the business of the country by the national banks; the reduction of a million of debtors of a hitherto fair fortune to poverty, the degradation of the mass of laborers to pauperism, and ultimately I fear the subversion of our Government, in fact if not in form, so that it will cease to oe a Government of the people, and will fall under the absolute rule o' a money oligarchy. Com-pared with the gigantic robbery, suf-fering, and ensiavement which this resumption law will inflict the injury to the Government and people from mere maladministration is petry and ephemeral. All the stoppages of the revenues possible under the most vigilant administration could not save the people a hundreth part of the vast aggregate of wealth of which this rascally legislation will

THE FIRST STEP IN THE WAY OF RE-COVERY.

I therefore regard the repeal of that law and of the laws demonetizing silver as the first and paramount objects of effort with all friends of the people and a people's Government.

COMPARISON OF THE PARTIES AND THEIR PLATFORMS. Now let any candid man compare the candidates, the platform, the acts and spirit of the two great parties, and he will see that through the agency of the Republican party a reif the Democracy triumphs repeal may be accomplished. The opinions of the candidates are a subordinate consideration. It is a legislative, not an administrative, reform which the people most need and demand. No President, whatever his personal views, dare antagon ze on a mere question of expediency the representatives of the party which elects him. Our Government is ruled by parties, not by a man. In fact, though the President has a qualified veto, and though the Senate has legislative functions nearly co-ordinate with the House, the body which comes fresh from the people substantially controls legislation on all questions actracting public attention. Such has been the tendency in all free governments, and is an increasing tendency in THE CANDIDATES. Governor Hayes has declared his determination to oppose the repeal or modification of the resumption law, unless an act forcing resumption at as early a day be substituted. Governor Tilden has not committed him-self to this Republican device for robbing the many to aggrandize the few. The Republican candidate for Vice-President has, as a member of Congress, voted steadily against its repeal or modification, while Governor Hendricks-God bless his true and noble heart!-stood by us in Ohio last fall in demanding that it be expugned from the statute-book. Look-we find the Republicans silent on that law, while the Democrats declare for the repeal of "the resumption clause." By common consent this is held to mean the repeal of the whole clause authorizing and requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to to sell bonds or use revenues to redeem the legal tender notes. Governor Hendricks, in his speech at Indianapolis, two days after the Convention, happily characterized that part of the platform as a demand for the repeal of the law which causes contraction and proetrates the industries of the country. So much for tries of the country. So much for the candidates and platforms. Now TIVE PAR-old standard silver dollar, and making it sgain a legal tender for all debts, public and private, United States bonds and greenbacks included, a vote was had in the House on the 29th of last month, when eighty-three Democrats voted for the proposition and only eighteen against it. while but twenty-four Republicans voted for it and thirty-five against it.

Thus three-fourths of the Demoerats in the House are resolutely strug-ling for the repeal of these most pernicious laws, and are only balked of success by an unjust organization of the committee, and by a mere fraction of the party co-operating with the Republicans. Assuming that the Democrats on both sides represent the opinions of their respective party constituents, three fourths of the Democratic party of the United States favor the repeal of these laws, and five-sixths of the Republican party oppose it.

THE TRUE SITUATION. But let us go further and look behind these laws at the fundamental differences of policy involved in their enforcement or repeal. There is no question of hard money or soft money. Both sides equally know that gold will not, after resumption, be current among the people, but will be locked up in the Treasury or the banks, and the money actually cur-rent will be either Government paper or bank paper. Both sides want paper money to be par with coin. It is, in fact, now precisely at par with the average of the two standards, being worth ten per cent. more than the standard silver dollar and ten per cent less than gold. Neither party seeks repudiation or inflation. The conflicts in policy involved in the struggle for the repeal of those laws are

First. One policy is designed to increase and multiply the national banks, and give them complete and perpetual control of the issue of currency and consequent aggrandize ment in wealth and political power. The other is intended to deprive the banks of the power, and have the General Government alone issue all currency Second. One policy is designed to increase the burden of the national debt by changes in the mode of payment favorable to the boudholders.-The other to lighten the burden as far as possible consistent with national bonor.

Third. One policy intends, by forced contraction, to confiscate the property of debtors and of producers and exchangers of values generally, and build on their wrecked fortuna powerful money aristocracy. The other intends to reach resumption in gold or silver without sacrificing the fortunes or business of the people.

The fact that there is some division in both parties indicates that these issues are so potent that in certain States and districts both parties bow to the dominant interest, but that does not alter the fact that in substance and effect the REPUBLICAN PARTY REPRESENTS

THE MONEY POWER AND THE DEM-OCRATIC PARTY THE PEOPLE. This is not only true, but has been true throughout the management of the war debt and currency. Though the Democratic party opposed the eal of those laws is hopeless, while creation of legal tenders, yet it has the Democracy triumphs repeal steadily sustained that currency since their establishment. On the bill of 1869, which annulled the payable in greenbacks, every Democrat in the House but one voted against it. On Morgan's bill in 1870 to make greenbacks receivable for customs 34 out of 43 Democra's voted in its favor. In the same year the Democrats voted almost unanimously against Sherman's bill to increase the bank circulation, and in favor of Randall's and subsequently of Neely's bill to substitute legal tenders for bank notes, and in favor of Morgan's bill to wholly abolish the national bank system. In short, every feature of the Republican's system of finance which the Democrats of Onio oppose has been and is now opposed by an overwhelming majority of the party in the House of Representatives, and the two most conspicuous measures of relief proposed by us, to wit: The substitution of legal tenders for bank notes and the receipt of them for customs have been sustained by our party in Congress.

THE ULTIMATE ISSUE between the two conflicting policies on this question is whether we are to have national bank notes or Treasury notes as the paper currency of the country. On that issue the Democratic party cannot take the side of the banks without stultification and recreancy to its traditions and its trust. Jefferson, the immortal founder of the party, advocated Treasury notes as a currency and demanded the suppression of bank paper. Every Democratic administration from Jackson to Buchanan recommended approval, and executed laws for the issue of Treasury notes, which were receivable for all public dues and which circulated as money. No Democ:atic administration ever recommended, but every one strenuously opposed bank issues authorized by the General Government. THE ATTITUDE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY AND ITS FUTURE I do not ignore the fact that there are strong influences at work, and with a large measure of success, to make the Democratic party acquiesco in the Republican money policy, an even to break its promise to repeal the resumption clause. But I do not believe they can turn the party from its lifetime loyalty to the peo-ple. I am sure they cannot if the people themselves prove true to the men who are fighting their battle in the House. We are in the be-ginning of a conflict over the debt and the currency, which involves the fortunes and liberties of the people. The genius and spirit of the Democratic party, its every act from its birth till now, proclaim it the people's champion in this fight. It is a mighty organization, the growth of three quarters of a century, rooted in the hearts of the people, and able to cope with their great adversary. It has never forgotten, what he Republican party never learned, that there is as well as to the holders of the public securities. Trust it. It will never betray the toiling, confiding, and honest many to the idle, cratty, and rapacious few. Currency reformers of Ohio and of the Republic, the occasion demands instant, considerate, and united action. Four years more of Republican financial rule and the people may sink powerless to relieve themselves by the ballot. The House is already yours. Hold it. It is the head of the Government, and all else is subordiaate to its power. Hold it as Hamp-den and his associates held the Commons until the Lords and the Crown yielded to the people.

[Tarboro Southerner.] J. C. Scarborough, Esq., Conservative candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressed about 500 voters of Nash county, in Nashville, on Monday. We were a decimal fraction of the Convention that nominated Mr. Scarborough, and thought we were doing the best for the State, but we had no conception what a power he was. No man more peculiarly fitted for the high responsibilities pertaining to that office could have been found in the State. H's oratory is eloquent, sincere, convincing. His style is graceful and captivating. No element of the demagogue enters into his composition. We do not hesitate to say, in our humble judgment, few more potent canvassers will enter the arena of strife during this campaign. We hope he will be heard in every counly in the State.

Bluford Wilson's Revelations. New York Tribune

Bluford Wilson, who was Solicitor of the Treasury Department during the whisky trials, gave the inner history of those trials yesterday to the House Committee at Washington, which is investigating the subject. He said that Gen. Grant supported Mr. Bristow's and Mr. Wilson's campaign against the Ring until General Babcock was indicted; that he then became cold toward Mr. Bristow and Mr. Wilson, and that he enterposed various obstacles to the prosecution of General Pabcock; that Gen. Grant was the real author of the famous circular in regard to taking the testimony of accomplices; and that he still shielded Gen. Babcock when the proofs of his guilt had been presented to him, and when also it had been shown that Gen. Babcock was implicated in the Black Friday conspiracy. Numerous important letters were read. The testimony has created a great stir in Washington.

Gov. Vance said at Rutherfordton "Some laws were harsh and severe and were unpleasant for me to execute. In so doing, however, I was only obeying the solemn oath of office I had taken. I was sworn to obey and execute the laws-I did nothing more; and if you elect me your Governor now, I shall execute every law I find upon the statute books. I am no man to trifle with my oath and if you want a man who makes a jest of his perjury, take Billy Smith. #### What Dr. Pierce is Doing-An Important Enterprise.

We learn that Dr. R. V. Pierce, reprietor of the "World's Dispens.rv," in this city, has perfected the which he proposes to erect a large hotel for the accommodation of his bumerous patients coming hither from all points of the compass. The and purchased by the enterprising Doctor is 234 feet front on Prospect Avenue, running through to Fargo A venue, 332 feet; also an adjoining bet extending from the above to Con-becticut Street. It is in the midst of our extensive system of public parks, fronts the old and beautiful Prospect Park, is but a short distance from the "Circle" in one direction, and the "Lake Front" in the other. The site selected is a fine one, being both beautiful and healthful; is one of the highest portions of our city, easily accessible, yet sufficiently retired to secure quiet, and commands a pleasant view of the lake and river, as well as of the surrounding city and country. We understand that it is the intention of Dr. Pierce to erect a hotel at the cost of at least two hun-dred thousand dollars, where those who come to enjoy the benefit of his treatment may find all desired accommodations under one roof, instead of being scattered over the city as at present. We are further given to understand that our architects will be invited to submit plans for the proposed structure without delay .-Buffalo Express.

Mr. Jones, of Florida, declined to vote on the ground that the Senate had no jurisdiction. The presiding officer announced that two-thirds of the Senate had not voted guilty, and therefore the respondent was acquittted on the charge in the first article.

Nearly all those voting not guilty made brief s'atements, saying they did so through want of jurisdiction. The Senate hen proceeded to vote upon the second article when thirtysix Senators voted guilty, and twen ty five not guilty. Mr. Maxey, who did not answer on the first roll call, voted guilty upon the second article. Those Senators who voted not guilty repeated their reasons for doing so being for want of jurisdiction, as stated upon the first roll call.

The Senate agreed to the report of the Conference Committee on the Military Academy Appropriation bill, and it now goes to the President losses: Two Pachas, viz: Selin Pafor his signature.

Another Account of the Custer Battle-A Large Party of Sioux and Cheyennes to March on Standing Rock to Intimidate Indians to Join Sitting Bull, CHICAGO, August 1. - Captain J. S. Pollard writes from Standing Rock-July 24th, officially, his account of Custer's battle. His statement does not differ materially from published accounts. He says Sitting Bull was neither killed nor hurt. He remained in the council tent, directing operations. Crazy Horse and Big Moon were the principal leaders. Kill Eagle, who was here with twenty lodges of the Blackfeet Indians in May, was in the fight. He sends word he was forced to fight and wishes to return to the agency. The Hostiles claim they have captured in three fights four hundred stand of arms and carbines, rifles and revolvers not counted : and ammunition without end, and some sugar, coffee, bacon and hard bread. Captain Pollard adds: "I have. since writing the above, heard the following from returned hostiles: They communicated as a secret to their particular friends here information that a large party of Sioux and Cheyennes were to leave Rose Bud Mountain, a hostile camp, for this agency to intimidate and compel the Indians here to join Sitting Bull. Grant and the Hamburg Riot-Congress to Adjourn Monday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 1 .-In answer to a Senate resolution asking information regarding the Hamburg rlot, the President transmits a letter from Gov. Chamberlain to him and the answer thereto, and the report of the Attorney General of South Carolina. In his letter of transmittal the President says: "These enclosures embrace all the information in my possession touching the late diagraceful and brutal slaughter of unoffending men in the town of Hamburg. My letter to Gov. Chamberlain contains all the comments I wish to make on the subject. An allusion is made in that letter to the condition of other States, and particularly to Louisiana and Mississippi. I have added to the enclosures letters and testimony in regard to the lawless condition of a portion of the people of the latter State. In regard to Louisiana affairs, murders of innocent men for opinion's sake or on account of color have been of too frequent occurrence to require recapitulation or testimony here. All are familiar with the horrible details, the only wonder being that so many justify them or opologize for them. But recently a committee of the Senate of the United States visited the State of Mississippi to take testimony on the subject of frauds and violence in elections. Their report has not yet been made public, but I await its forthcoming with a feeling of confidence that it will fully sustain all that I have stated relating to fraud and violence in the State of Mississippi."

The Committee on Ways and Means have instructed their chairman to report the joint resolution for adjournment on Monday next. The Secretary of the Treasury has ordered payment of interest on Dis. trict of Columbia bonds. The President has issued a proclamation declaring Colorado admitted as State into the Union. Killed for Disturbing a Camp-Meeting.
